Frequently Asked Questions:

Q. How much should I retail the wine filled chocolates for?

A. We see wineries and gourmet stores retail a 6 count box for about $8 to $12 each normally.

Q. Do I have to send you wine?

A. Not at all. We can use our own private label wines or you can send us your wine - your choice. It does not impact the price at all.

Q. How do you recommend we store these confections?

A. Please keep them in a cool place and sell them within 45 days of receiving them. They never spoil, but they are at their best during this time.

Q. Any tips on how to market these chocolates?

A. We offer a bulk box of wine filled chocolates that make for great samples. They sell very nicely at harvest festivals, chocolate and wine pairings, farmer's markets and more. Tourists love them and keep in mind that you cannot buy these except in a select number of wineries and gourmet stores.

Q. We host weddings at our vineyard, are your chocolates suitable as wedding favors?

A. Many wineries, Inns and venues use our wine filled chocolates or chocolate corks as wedding favors. They are entirely unique.

Q. Do I have to use your shipping service with UPS?

A. You may provide your shipping account number if you wish, and we can then use whatever service you prefer.

Q. Where can I get labels for the boxes?

A. You can have labels professionally made at any print shop or you can make your own with Avery, VistaPrint.com or a similar product. If you'd rather use our label in the form of "Wine Country Chocolates", we can do that for you as well.

Q. Can I use a different type of box for the chocolates?

A. Most likely. Please advise us of the type of box you'd like and we can try to do so.

Here are some examples of labels that other wineries have created:
